They are often seen sharing a warm cuddle when their hectic schedules allow them to meet up but fans might be shocked at just how close Rihanna and Katy Perry are.

The pop princesses were spotted feeding each other strawberries and cream which made for a rather seductive sight as they spent a day in London recently.

But not all is what it seems and the two girls are in fact lookalikes and the snaps are the brainchild of spoof photographer Alison Jackson.

What a sweet treat! Katy Perry and Rihanna lookalikes have posed for a series of pictures to promote Breast Cancer Care's Strawberry Tea campaign

'Rihanna' and 'Katy' were seen sharing the fruits in a taxi, on the tube and in the park and luckily there was someone on hand to capture the unbelievable moments on film.

In the back of a black cab Rihanna is seen reclining back as the Teenage Dream star drops a ripe fruit into her mouth.

Always one to be provocative in the style stakes the Talk That Talk singer's lookalike is seen wearing a tiny pink dress and suspender-like tights.

The look of lust: Rihanna appears to be salivating over Katy in one pic

Al fresco fancy: The pair were also seen enjoying tea outside in the park

Cake cake cake: The girls also enjoyed in a sponge and cream desert outside

Meanwhile, Katy's doppelganger was dressed in a black and white polka dot dress and had opted for blue highlights in her hair.

The juicy shoot was set up to promote Breast Cancer Care's Strawberry Tea campaign which encourages people to host a strawberry tea party just like the girls.

Commuters on the tube must have been shocked to see the lookalikes indulging in a sweet treat on a carriage.

Tube-tastic: The lookalikes must have confused commuters as they posed with their fruits on the tube

Covert snaps: The pictures are the work of spoof photographer Alison Jackson

In fact there's little doubt that some passers-by must have assumed they were seeing the pop duo in the flesh for real.
