

Alison Jackson's celebrity spoofs

A collection of the satirical celebrity look-alike images created by Alison Jackson

Known for her spoof images involving celebrity look-alikes, Alison Jackson has often cast her satirical eye on Tony Blair, 'seen' here trying to connect to the younger electorate | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON

The closeness of the former British Prime Minister's relationship with US President George Bush has also come under Jackson's scrutiny | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON

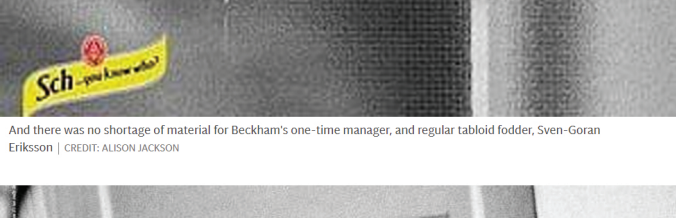

While the Blairs love-in with celebrity proved to be a rich source of material | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON

Beckham too was regularly lampooned | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON

Jackson even set up this live window on Oxford Street to publicise a new book | CREDIT: PA

And there was no shortage of material for Beckham's one-time manager, and regular tabloid fodder, Sven-Goran Eriksson | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON

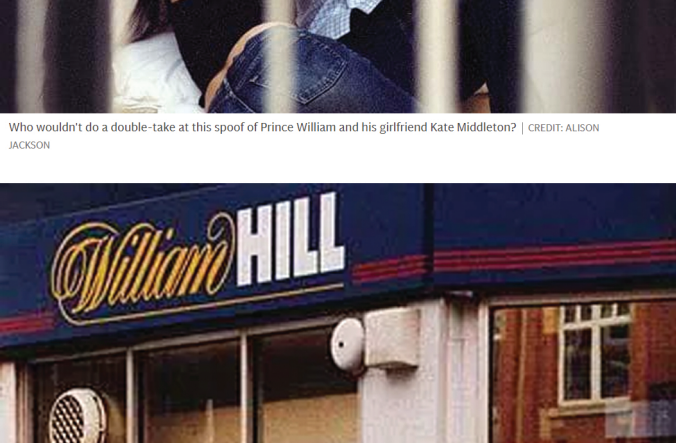

Hollywood also comes under the microscope, as Liz Hurley and Hugh Grant found out in the a series of adverts Jackson did for Schweppes | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON

Catherine Zeta Jones and Michael Douglas did not escape her withering gaze either | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON

And there was no sparing the Royal Family with a Camilla Parker Bowles look-alike portrayed in a way designed to provoke Scandal | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON

Who wouldn't do a double-take at this spoof of Prince William and his girlfriend Kate Middleton? | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON

Even 'the Queen' appeared in the most unlikely of places | CREDIT: ALISON JACKSON